ANTI-BOLSHEVIK RISING REPORTED IN PETRO

All German Delegates Return

PARIS, May 24.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace mission, and his colleagues, conferred yesterday at. Epa with Philip Scheldemann, Mathias Ersberger, Bernhard Dernberg and Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau left for Versailles, and the members of the German government started for Berlin.

The council of four today continued its consideration of the economic clauses of the Auntrian peace treaty, calling in experts for consultation. It is still expected that the treaty will be ready for presentation to the Austrians on Wednesday next.

Newspapers here unanimously approve of the fairness, justice and preclaion of the reply of the peace conference to the notes of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau. In the reply relative to economic questions they see the "resolute determination of the enterts to obtain all desirable reparations."

It was announced last night that the treaty to be presented to Austria would be considered at a plenary session on Tuesday and would be laid before the Austrian delegation probably on Wedneeded.

Austrian delegation probably on Wednesday.

The council of four yesterday considered the military terms as framed by Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies; Gen. Diaz, supreme commander of the Italian army, and other military leaders. Austria's formidable army of upward of a million men, which second only to that of Germany, is reduced by the treaty to 15,000 men; virtually all military supplies would be surrendered or destroyed and further military production abolished.

The naval terms are similarly sweeping, all warships being surrendered and Austria's position as a naval power terminated.

Austria's position as a naval power terminated.

The American deteration has prepared a memorandum showing the status of affairs before the peace conference on the conclusion of the Austrian treaty.

This discloses that a formidable amount of business is still to be transacted besides the Turkish and Bulgarian treatles, covering the whole range of inter-allied subjects. No doubt is left that the conference will continue for a considerable time after the treaties have been eigned and President Wilson has left, it being expected the other American members will remain to consider matters still requiring attention.

Tennessee War H Greeted By Baker After Ne York Ovation

(Copyright, 1919, by Underwood & Underwood, New York.)

When Sergt. Alvin C. York, of the 328th infantry, 82d division, reputed to have accomplished the greatest single feat of the war, arrived from France Friday he was greeted by the Tennessee society of New York and taken to the Waldorf-Astoria, where a dinner was served in his honor. The sergeant was presented with $2,000 in Liberty bonds.

This photograph, taken at the Waldorf, shows, from left to right: H. A. Parn, John W. Love, Dr. James Kinger, John J. Lavender, Frank Caruthers, D. A. York, of Pall Mall, Tenn., wearing the congressional medal of honor and the Croix de Guerre with palm, called upon Secretary Baker today. He was introduced by Representative Hull, of Tennessee. "You are a brave man. I congratulate you," Mr. Baker said.

Leaving the war department, Sergt. York went to the White House to meet Secretary Tumulty.

NEW YORK, May 24. (Spl.)-"I never shall forget you," were the parting words of Sergt. Alvin C. York, of Pall Mail, Tenn. called by Gen. Foch "the war's greatest here," as he left New York at midnight for Washington, after the city had paid him unprecedented honor. In the afternoon he was taken by the reception committee of the Tennessee society in New York to view the stock exchange, and the brokers practically suspended business for half an hour as they cheered themselves hoarse and extended to him the privilege of the floor.

"Sergeant York is a very unpretentious soldier and an exceedingly modest man. He had been awarded the distinguished service cross for being leader of a party that brought in a number of a party that brought in a number of German prisoners, officers and enlisted men. One day an officer of my staff came to me and said, 'Have you ever gotton all the facts in this exploit of Sergeant York's? I said I had only the facts that were presented for the granting of the D. S. C. He continued. Thave had occasion te look them up, and in my opinion his was the most outstanding example of individual gallantry, not only in this war, but that I ever heard of."
"So I started an investigation, the result of which was the award by the president of the congressional medal of honor which I had the honor of placing around his neck before we left France.
"This is the only decoration worn suspended from the neck by a ribbon. And I tell you that it is typical of the modesty of this fine soldier that he has it pinned along side another decoration instead.

Historical Program Carried Out Under Gloomy Skies Floats Postponed.

The public observance of Memphis' undredth anniversary held during the week closes Saturday, was carried out under most unusual difficulties. Although the historical events planned as a part of the original program for the centenary celebration were all held, the programs were carried out under gloomy, lowering skies, or were held under shelter in the midst of pouring rain. Not a day during the week passed without several heavy showers, which often continued for hours just at the time set for some of the more elaborate programs of the week.

In the face of such unfavorable weather conditions, the attendance of visitors from outside the city could not be expected to reach the numbers anticipated. Memphians themselves were prevented from witnessing several of the more impertant events. The elaborate pageant of illumniated floats, planned as the climax of the spectaoutar features of the centenary program, was postponed from night to night.
